4-H Club Parade Abbreviated Because Of Rain; Entries Ride Inside Cars

Receipts for shows and rides at the Pumpkin Show this year were 40 percent, or nearly $800, under last year's figures, T. D. Krinn, director in charge of free acts, shows and rides, announced Monday.

Total rides this year numbered 27,183, while last year's figures were 45,969. A total of 23,422 persons paid admissions to shows this year, while last year admissions totaled 36,536.

A day by day report of show and ride figures for this year as compared with those of last year follow:

1940	1939
Wednesday:	Wednesday:
Rides, 3,851	Rides, 5,201
Shows, 3,295	Shows, 3,632
Thursday:	Thursday:
Rides, 6,813	Rides, 9, 892
Shows, 6,262	Shows, 7,479
Friday:	Friday:
Rides, 7,542	Rides, 12,675
Shows, 6,933	Shows, 10,004
Saturday:	Saturday:
Rides, 8,977	Rides, 15,401
Shows, 6,532	Shows, 15,421

Circleville returned to normalcy Monday with the thirty-seventh annual Pumpkin Show history. The event ended Saturday at midnight. Mack Parrett, Jr., show secretary, disclosed that receipts from concession space and donations were higher than last year, but he said he felt certain the show would not break even financially. A meeting will be held in the next two weeks at which time directors will discuss the show and changes that might make it better next year.

One suggestion being heard about the city was that the show be advanced two weeks to receive a better break in weather.

A chilly mid-afternoon rain fell on Junior Fair members Saturday as they marched through downtown streets in the final scheduled event of the show. Commercial floats were kept from the parade because of the weather, while healthiest boys and girls from Pickaway County's schools rode inside cars instead of on the front fenders as had been previously planned.

Chosen by Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner, and Miss Margaret Hunsicker, county health nurse, as the county's healthiest girl and boy were Lola Faye Younkin, 17, Scioto Township senior, and Donald Duval, 15, Ashville sophomore.

Miss Younkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Younkin of Scioto Township, is five feet five inches tall and weighs 112 pounds. Donald Duval, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Duval of near Ashville, is five feet seven inches tall and weighs 135 pounds. Awards were presented by Miss Martha Jean Barr, Walnut Township, and Russell Pyle, Deer Creek Township, last year's winners, at the Court-Main Street intersection immediately after the parade.

CORONER'S RACE STATUS IS BEING INVESTIGATED

With Dr. E. L. Montgomery, Democratic candidate for county coroner, called for military service, a question has arisen among election officials as to whether or not his name may still be placed on the ballot.

Claude Kraft, clerk of the county board of elections, said Monday that he was checking with the attorney general's office to determine the ruling in the matter.

Dr. F. C. Schaeffer is the Republican nominee for coroner.

U. S. EMBASSY IN LONDON BOMBED; PERSONNEL SAFE

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The American embassy in London was slightly damaged during the recent German air raids on the British capital, it was disclosed today.

Bombs, which fell near the building and shattered nearby apartments broke embassy windows and littered the roof with masonry and debris. There was no injuries to the personnel.

Many buildings and apartments for blocks around the embassy, which is located in Grosvenor Square in the heart of London, have been levelled by Nazi explosives. Two buildings and a flat close to the embassy have been smashed.

The Y. M. C. A. headquarters on Great Russell Street, in the heart of the city also has sustained damage from falling bombs, it was revealed.

ROMANIANS MAY DEMAND ARREST OF CAROL'S PAL

BERLIN, Oct. 21 — A German official news agency (DNE) dispatch from Bucharest said today it is understood the Romanian government will demand the extradition of Mme. Magda Lupescu from Spain, where she fled with King Carol after his abdication.

Grounds on which the demand will be based, the report stated, are that Mme. Lupescu, Carol's favorite companion for the last 15 years, was responsible for the assassination of Corneliu Codreanu, late Iron Guard leader.

(Editor's Note: The Iron Guard for many years held a deep antipathy for Mme. Lupescu, partly because of her Jewish blood and partly because of the influence she exercised over the Romanian court during former King Carol's reign.)

INCUMBENT SOLONS HIT

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21.—The Citizens League today called for the defeat at the November 5 election of three Democratic state senators—William J. Zouli, William M. Boyd and Otto J. Bartunek—and endorsed five Republicans and two Democrats for the seven seats in the Cuyahoga County delegation in the state senate.

Balkan Countries Order Blackouts As Danger Remains Tense

ITALIAN DISTRICTS HIT

Duce's Bombers Damage Oil Field; Long Range Weapons In Action

LONDON, Oct. 21.—A possibility that Britain's Royal Air Force may have smashed another German invasion attempt last night was seen here today.

British bombers unexpectedly gave the German invasion bases on the French side of the English Channel the worst pounding they have had since September 16th, when the first Nazi attempt to invade England was so successfully nipped in the bud.

By International News Service Britain's hard-working RAF bombers seized the headlines today with a series of smashing attacks against German and Italian targets, while tension in the Balkans brought a blackout in Bucharest and Japanese bombers again struck at the Burma Road in China.

German raiders, after a night attack against London that partially fizzled out, returned to the British capital for new daylight attacks, dropping bombs and causing the city's 241st alarm of the war.

But a British announcement told of terrific RAF attacks that ranged from Berlin to northern Italy and up and down the continental channel coast as well as against other parts of the Reich.

For two and a half hours bombs fell on Nazi-held French "invasion ports" at the rate of 100 a minute.

Berlin reported that the British raid there was one of the longest and most persistent yet attempted, but claimed that bombs fell only on residential areas and hit "exclusively non-military objectives."

A German announcement charged the British raid was a "mere terror action against the Berlin population."

In Rome it was revealed that British planes bombed Verona, Pavia, Alessandria, Savona and two other points in northern Italy during the night. A Swiss communique charged that the British bombers violated Swiss territory en route to Italy and said anti-aircraft batteries fired on the planes.

REPORT OF BOMB SIGHT'S SALE TO BRITAIN DENIED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—High army officials today refused to comment on reports that the famous American super bomb sight "would be released for sale to Great Britain, but a member of congress handling army appropriations declared that the bomb sight would be kept for the United States alone.

Reports that the army was ready to allow Great Britain to obtain the bomb sight for use in raids on Berlin and strategic German industrial centers have circulated in congress for the last two weeks and aroused the ire of isolationists.

Rep. J. Buell Snyder (D) Pa., chairman of the house army appropriation subcommittee made an announcement today.

9,500 SHIP YARD MEN AGREE TO NEW TERMS

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 21 — Threats of a strike which would tie up $500,000,000 in U. S. navy orders at the New York shipbuilding plant vanished today following acceptance by the 9,500 employees of a company compromise on 1940-41 contract demands.

Under a contract approved by the CIO union members, the employees will receive an average seven percent wage increase adding $1,500,000 annually to the payrolls. Its approval ended eight weeks' negotiation during which the union demanded a 10 percent pay rise under threat of a strike.

POISON IS FATAL TO SCHOOL MAN

Homer B. Wood Of Fairfield County Ends Life In New Orleans Hotel

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—The coroner's office today listed the death of Homer B. Wood, Pickerington, O., school superintendent, as a suicide.

Wood's body was found by police in a second class French quarter hotel with a note addressed to Dr. Ray Wood of the state department of education.

The note read: "Please notify Dr. Ray Wood and tell him I am dead."

The coroner's investigation revealed that Wood had died from poisoning.

Arrangements are being made to return the body to Pickerington.

Wood was last seen Tuesday as he left Pickerington for Lancaster, Pa. The day after his disappearance it was revealed that Columbus police held a warrant for his arrest on a charge of theft of a $200 trumpet from a Columbus pawn shop. Wood, detectives said, had admitted taking the instrument and selling it to a member of the Pickerington band for $35. He was to have appeared in Columbus municipal court the day after his disappearance for a hearing.

5,000 IN MOTOR CITY SABOTAGE WORK, SAYS DIES

DETROIT, Oct. 21.—Information that a series of acts of sabotage will occur in the Detroit area when the defense program reaches its maximum output has been received by the Dies Committee, Rep. Martin Dies said today.

Dies declared that agents of Russia, Italy and Germany were numerous in the motor city.

The Texas congressman, chairman of the congressional committee investigating un-American activities, asserted there were 5,000 local members of organizations affiliated in some way or other with the Russian German and Italian governments.

"Many of these persons," he said, "are working in key industries in defense industries. Many, of course, are innocent members of these organizations. Nevertheless, there are 5,000 potential saboteurs in Detroit."

Dies is in Detroit to supervise activities of his agents. He said he would remain in Detroit for two or three weeks.

NEW PARALYSIS CASES ON FILE IN OHIO OFFICE

COLUMBUS, Oct. 21.—Four new cases of infantile paralysis, including the first in Fulton County, were reported today, according to Dr. R. H. Markwith, state health director. Marion County reported two new cases and Hamilton County one.

There are now 70 active cases of the disease in the state, Markwith said.

Ready to Re-Enact Draft Role

LEUT. Col. Charles R. Morris, of Elizabeth, N. J., who placed the blindfold on President Wilson's eyes in 1917, is shown holding that historic blindfold, while before him is the ladle used to stir the draft capsules. He said he is ready to re-enact his role when President Roosevelt draws the first draft number.

Details for Draft Act Lottery Are Completed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The national draft lottery to determine which of the country's 17,000,000 conscription registrants will be called first will be held in Washington Tuesday, October 29, it was officially announced today.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Announcement of detailed plans for the national draft lottery was expected today.

The plans, it was learned, are virtually complete and await only approval by President Roosevelt.

According to best information, the lottery will be held in Washington on Tuesday, October 29—just a week from tomorrow.

Meanwhile, National Draft Director Clarence A. Dykstra urged the 6,500 local conscription boards throughout the country to "use all possible" speed to give the 17,000,000 men who registered under the draft law last Wednesday their serial numbers.

Dykstra pointed out that the serial numbers must be posted before the lottery can be held. He explained that it was up to local boards to take four steps, and quickly. The draft director listed the steps as follows:

1. Examination of all cards to make sure that they belong to men in the area of the local board.
2. Each board must place their cards in one pile, and "shuffle them thoroughly" to insure "accidental sequence."
3. A separate serial number must be given each card in the order of its accidental sequence.
4. The board must prepare master lists of registrants in the order of the numbers and post them publicly.

Only then, according to Dykstra, can the lottery be conducted to determine which of the potential conscripts will be mustered into the army first for a year of military training.

RAF ATTACKERS AFTER IL DUCE, ROME DECLARES

ROME, Oct. 21.—A possibility that the object of the British Royal Air Force's attack on northern Italy during the night was an attempt to bomb Premier Mussolini was seen here today.

In one of the most widespread aerial attacks yet made on northern Italy by RAF British bombers struck at six cities.

Italian officials said the bombings "probably were connected with the presence of Premier Mussolini in northern Italy," but added that the British airplanes "failed to reach and bomb the northeastern area."

Premier Mussolini left Rome Saturday by air for the eastern frontier to inspect Italian troops there. He arrived at Forlì, in northeastern Italy, on Saturday afternoon and was supposed to spend the night there, continuing his journey yesterday.

SHERIFF PROBES HEAD-ON MISHAP ON ADELPHI PIKE

Catherine Stapleton, 21, Killed In Collision On Route 56

COMPANION IN HOSPITAL

Dayton Autoist Detained By Authorities For Investigation

A Circleville girl was killed, her companion was seriously hurt and three other persons were hurt painfully but not seriously in a terrific head-on collision Sunday a few minutes before 10 p. m. on a Route 56 curve, one mile southeast of Circleville.

Miss Catherine F. Stapleton, 21, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Stapleton, 624 South Scioto Street, died of a skull fracture when she was being taken from the scene of the accident to Berger Hospital in the Defenbaugh ambulance.

Injured were:

Millard Campbell, 25, 508 South Court Street, in whose car Miss Stapleton was riding. He is in Berger Hospital suffering from a possible skull fracture.

Andrew W. Wright, 34, of 630 Taylor Street, Dayton, suffering from shoulder injuries. He is being detained at the Pickaway County jail pending an official investigation of the collision.

Mrs. Helen Wright, his wife, who has knee bruises.

Ray McLaughlin, 36, of Gloucester R. F. D., a passenger in the Wright car, who lost several teeth and has lacerations about the head.

Although all were taken to Berger Hospital for treatment, Campbell was the only one remaining there Monday.

Curve Scene of Crash

Campbell and Miss Stapleton were riding in the former's Chevrolet enroute to Circleville when the Wright car careened around the curve and crashed against the Circleville automobile. When the wreck happened both cars were in the proper traffic lane for cars moving into Circleville from the direction of Laurelville.

Tire prints photographed by members of the sheriff's department showed that the Wright automobile had gone into a ditch before it careened across the road into the Campbell automobile.

The crash, deputy sheriffs said, was one of the most terrific in many months in the Circleville district. Both cars, taken to the J. H. Stout garage, were practically demolished. Wright was driving a LaSalle coupe.

THREE BILLIONS OF ARMY GOODS NOW ON ORDER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The army now has $3,500,000,000 worth of vital material "on order" and is doing everything humanly possible to spur deliveries, a survey disclosed today.

Procurement officers, in an informal progress report, said that contracts for that huge sum have been let since inauguration of the current preparedness buying program last July. This leaves $2,000,000,000 available in army funds, they said. Most of this money is to go for long range defense spending, primarily for construction of new or enlarged plants for speeding manufacture of guns, planes and explosives.

Of the money spent so far, the survey disclosed, the biggest slice—about $1,500,000,000—has gone to the ordnance department for guns tanks, ammunition and other equipment. The air corps has contracted to spend about an even $1,000,000,000, most of it for the 18,641 planes which have been ordered.

and London heard that American-owned oil wells were among those attacked.

British authorities at Cairo charged the Italian planes violated neutrality of Moslem states by bombing Bahrain Island and the mainland of Saudi Arabia.

The huge scope of the British bombing attacks was indicated in a terse Air Ministry announcement which said:

"Last night RAF bombers carried out extensive operations ranging from Berlin to northern Italy.

"Targets were attacked in both these areas as well as in other parts of Germany. Attacks also were made on the invasion ports."

Nazi positions along the French coast took a terrific pounding, aimed at smashing the German "invasion springboards" and silencing the "big Berthas" that earlier duelled heavily with British long-range guns.

There was a possibility that British warships supported the air attacks with naval gunfire, although official British sources said they had received no word of such action.

As many as 15,000 bombs were dropped on the Nazi coastal positions between 7 and 9:30 p. m. Sunday, after which other British squadrons sped inland to stab at Berlin and other Reich targets.

Yesterday afternoon British and German long-range artillery duelled back and forth across the Dover Straits for two hours in the biggest engagement of this nature since the war began. Likewise the RAF raids against the coast appeared to be the greatest yet launched. Crashing bombs and roaring anti-aircraft fire shook the English coast, 22 miles away.

Berlin Radio Halted

First indication that Berlin was being attacked came when the German capital's radio went off the air two hours after all stations in occupied France became silent.

Earlier British naval bombers struck at Germany's Arctic sea-plane base at Tromsø, Norway, and claimed to have damaged a German supply ship and started several fires.

Apparently because of terrific fire from new anti-aircraft guns, the Nazi night raid on London dwindled sharply late last night and by early morning petered out into one of the lightest attacks on the city in weeks. The most spectacular feature was the number of delayed action bombs dropped on the outskirts, and this morning bomb disposal squads were hard at work locating and removing these missiles.

Meanwhile, Britain awaited another address by Prime Minister Winston Churchill, in which he will outline British war aims in a radio talk to the French.

Romania's capital, Bucharest, was plunged into darkness at midnight as the city's first total blackout was enforced as a precaution against possible bombing attacks. New anti-aircraft batteries were installed. London papers published reports of heavy German pressure to force Bulgaria into the axis line-up.

Japanese bombers carried out fierce new attacks on truck convoys on the Burma Road, damaging the Mekong River bridge on the vital munitions route into China.

OHIO TEACHERS ASKED TO TAKE PART IN EVENT

"Education for Common Defense" will be the theme of the Central Ohio Teachers' Association meeting in Columbus Friday, November 1, at the Columbus Auditorium.

Circleville and Pickaway County teachers are planning to attend.

The convention will open at 9 a. m., Friday, November 1, with Mayor Floyd F. Green of Columbus delivering the welcome address. Dr. Harry Rimmer, clergyman and author, president of the Research Scientific Bureau, will speak on "National Defense and Christian Conscience" during the morning session.

The sessions will continue through Saturday, Dr. H. V. Kallenborn, international news analyst and radio commentator, being the principal speaker Saturday.

Other distinguished speakers at the two-day convention include Dr. Mary Ellen Chase, professor of English Literature at Smith College; Dr. Arthur H. Compton, scientist and Nobel prize winner; Dr. Edgar G. Doudna, secretary of the Board of Regents of Normal Schools, Wisconsin; and Mrs. Claude M. Lotzpeich, teacher of languages in Juniata College.

Mainly About People

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor: for we are members one of another.—Ephesians 4:25.

Loring Hoffman of Salt Creek Township is in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, where he is recovering from injuries sustained when he slipped at his home and re-broke his left leg which was first broken July 3 in a tractor accident on his farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greisheimer of 232 1/2 North Court Street have been called to Cleveland by the death of Mr. Greisheimer's sister, Mrs. Vincent Palmisano. The funeral will be at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday at Sidney, O.

Nine-year-old Opal May White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James White, Circleville, Route 2, fell from a moving trailer Sunday, injuring her elbow. She was taken to Berger Hospital for treatment.

Miss Virginia Wood, New Holland, Mrs. Dorothy Majors, Route 4, Circleville, have been admitted to Berger Hospital for medical treatment.

Mrs. Mary England and her baby daughter of Route 4, Circleville, have been released from Berger Hospital.

Mrs. Carl Wetherell, and baby girl of Route 2, Amanda, returned home from Berger Hospital Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Gerhardt, 240 East Mound Street, was released from Berger Hospital Saturday.

Reports of the Ohio Kiwanis Club convention in Akron will be heard when the local club meets Monday evening at the Pickaway Country Club.

Mrs. Ray E. Rowland, injured last week in an automobile accident when she was enroute to her new home in St. Louis, has been removed from New Castle, Ind., to St. Louis. Her collarbone was broken. She was the only person in the automobile hurt when a gasoline truck pulled in front of the automobile in which she was riding.

Walter Goodman of Stoutsville is resting as well as can be expected after an accident last week in which he fell from a wagon. Mr. Goodman, who was taken to White Cross Hospital, Columbus, for treatment, has been returned home. He is suffering from torn back ligaments.

Mrs. J. Beamer of Adelphi was taken to White Cross Hospital, Columbus, Saturday, in the Deffenbaugh invalid car for a major operation.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hill of Jackson Township are the parents of four boys eligible for army service: Chester, 34, East Ringgold; Marvin, 29, Williamsport; Herbert, 26, Circleville, who registered October 16. The other son, Eldon (Tink), of Circleville, had enlisted in the Ohio National Guard previous to registration day.

Dr. Lucille H. Snow of Wilmette, Ill., was one of the co-chairmen of the championship team in the recent Community Chest campaign of Chicago, Ill., in which 11 teams participated. Dr. Snow is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hammel of North Court Street.

DEPUTIES CATCH TWO FUGITIVES FROM LANCASTER

COLUMBUS, Oct. 21—Franklin County deputy sheriffs captured two Negro fugitives from the Lancaster boys' Industrial School today, wounding one, John Hollaway, 17, of Cleveland. The other youth, John Robinson, 15, of Akron, was badly burned when he touched a high voltage wire while fleeing.

Patrolman Al Whitman said the escaped youths had accosted a young white woman and that when he intervened they attempted to run him down in their stolen car. Whitman turned in a radio alarm and Deputies Ed Carroll and Charles Stimpfle headed off Hollaway and Robinson.

The youths fled after their car crashed against a pole north of Columbus. Deputy Carroll fired three shots, one striking Hollaway in the shoulder. Robinson received a severe shock when he tried to escape over a fence.

BRITISH READY TO ACT IN EAST, LONDON HEARS

LONDON, Oct. 21—A strong hint that Britain is prepared to take the initiative in the Middle East was thrown out by A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, today in a speech opening War Weapons Week.

for exhibiting the best pie pumpkin and the largest pumpkin, respectively, at this year's Show. Trophies were presented at 3 p. m. at Court and Main Streets by Ralph Kuenning, manager of the Mills Restaurant chain. In presenting the trophies, Mr. Kuenning remarked that during one season his company purchased 667,000 pounds of pumpkins from Pickaway County alone. The restaurant manager was introduced by Mayor William B. Cady.

A wet platform caused cancellation of square dancing finals.

Weather Hits Finale

Fair exhibitors began to remove their displays early Saturday afternoon as cold weather limited Show visitors. Junior Fair members began to remove their livestock from the tents on Pickaway Street at three o'clock, and by six nearly all displays had been cleared away, although rides, shows and concessions held a portion of the crowd until midnight.

Final Pumpkin Show celebrators kept law enforcement officers busy Saturday night and early Sunday, local police arresting 21 persons on drunk and disorderly charges and state highway patrolmen arresting four for driving when intoxicated.

Carl Frampton, Route 1, Granville, state highway official, was arrested shortly after midnight Sunday for driving on East Main Street when intoxicated. He was fined $100 and costs and committed to County Jail where he remained until Sunday night when his fine was paid and he was released.

Shirley Heeter, Route 2, Circleville, was picked up by highway patrolmen at 12:10 a. m. Sunday on Route 22 west of Circleville for driving when intoxicated. He remains in City Jail pending hearing.

Drunken driving charges were filed by state highway patrolmen against Richard Hill, Route 6, Chillicothe, and against Thomas Amrine, Columbus. Amrine was fined $100 and costs and was released after his fine had been paid. Hill has not yet had his hearing.

Highway Patrolman H. O. McAdams arrested Jesse Anthony, Columbus, for unlawful operation of a motor vehicle on Route 23 south of Circleville and August Blain, Columbus, for driving without a driver's license.

August Dale Maravy, Route 2, Lancaster was arrested on charges of speeding on Route 22 East of Circleville. He forfeited a $20 bond when he failed to appear in traffic court Sunday at 3 p. m.

independent investigation at the war department in an effort to determine the truth of the rumors. "I will not quote any official but you can say for me that our super bomb sight has not and will not be released to any one," said Snyder.

Snyder admitted that the army and navy have several old type bomb sights which probably are not any better than those being used by the German and British. He expressed belief, however, that none of this type of equipment would be released for sale abroad.

Jitterbugs, Attention! Soundies Bring Swing Bands To Eye As Well As to Ear

The new soundie, with a pretty model

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 21—Jitterbugs and jivin' jeps gather 'round and listen. Hollywood has a new gadget for you, the soundies.

How do they operate? A soundie is the new sound-on-film entertainment, recorded and projected on a miniature screen that plays sound pictures on the new Panoram movie slot machine. In other words, a soundie is a trip of sound-on-film, 16mm in size, that plays for three minutes on an automatic movie machine. The customer drops a coin in the slot, and presto—a motion picture, sound and all, flashes in front of him. It is like operating your own floor show. You pick the show, and on she goes.

Suppose you like Jimmy Dorsey, want to see his band as well as hear his latest tune. Press a slot—and there he is in front of you. Jivin'—jammin'—an' everything. He looks as though he were going to step right out of the screen and come over to your table, because, as you probably don't know yet, soundie machines are going to be playing in every high-class tavern, hotel and hi-de-ho spot in the land, right near your table.

Oh, you are saying, it's just a record machine—with a movie attached. Not at all. Soundies are a show—a real, living floor show, which, if your hi-de-ho host at the tavern had to pay for in cold cash, would cost him plenty; and anyway how could he get a floor show outside of Hollywood like the one on the Panoram screen? Many were doubtful, too, at first. They had frankly expected to see a jerky, hit-and-miss film version of something or other on a dinky screen. That was not the case—they saw a real show, more action than they thought possible to jam into three scanty minutes. The fact that the "single shot" as each short subject alone is called, lasted but three minutes, wasn't disappointing. They got their money's worth, in "kick." The show was surprisingly well done—the direction, production and theme.

Hollywood had heard a lot about soundies in the past months, but no one had seen them. The gentlemen of the press took the idea in stride, until Jimmy Roosevelt, eldest son of the president, and his associate, Fred Mills, suddenly sprang a soundie preview. They chartered the Blossom and the Florentine rooms of the Hollywood Roosevelt hotel (not a Roosevelt enterprise this time) and let the world in on the new cinema mystery. And what a party. More than 5,000 fans viewed the advent of the soundie machines. Actors, stars, directors came. Cecil B. DeMille, Pat O'Brien, Binnie Barnes, Cary Grant, a host of big shots looked on. They heard hot jive, symphonic selections, operatic music; saw "pan" shots, "dolly" shots, close-ups—their own motion picture angles—on a "slotie," as soundies also are called, and they went away with the conviction that the "little guy" of motion pictures, the soundies, wasn't a joke. Here was an infant industry in their midst, something to think about.

The program took in all fashions. "Hep cats" and such saw their favorite bands in swing-time rhythms; music lovers their special fare. The triumphant scene from the second act of "Aida" was a knockout; the symphonic presentation of Schubert's "Rosamunde."

something to hear and see on a coin-in-the-slot machine.

Joy Hodges was grand in and "oldie" tune, "Row, Row, Row," a tune that even grads of '87 must remember. Henry Henigson, Jimmy Roosevelt's production man and pioneer maker of filmdom's latest innovation, was showing the scope of Panoram, as the machine is professionally called. Then there was Bernice Parks, and a chorus that Earl Carroll would have picked in another short; a jungle dance with Carmen d'Antino that gave the impression of a major movie sequence—a well-rounded show in all, 30 minutes of high-class entertainment.

In other words, if you were seated in your favorite tavern or amusement spot in the home town, had your girl friend or the wife with you, you'd put your coins in the slot near your table—and 30 minutes of Hollywood headlines would entertain your party. It's as simple as that.

The machine itself is about six and a half feet high and covers floor space about 30 inches square. The screen, 22 by 25 inches, is in front and at the top of the instrument, the projection being from the rear, making the image clearly visible from any angle without distortion. The sound is excellent. It has a deep tonal value, and is clear and full. In appearance it could be a television set, only it is much larger than those produced for home use.

In a few months, according to Gordon Mills, the Hollywood representative of the soundie makers, machines will be in every town, village and hamlet of the nation. Exhibitors are grabbing at Hollywood's latest craze.

Production of soundies, which is in the hands of Jimmy Roosevelt's Globe Productions, a major motion picture producing company, is assured. They will be made every day. This feature alone means jobs, work for actors and artists of all branches of show business, which in itself means an infant industry to Hollywood.

Soundie Distributing Corporation of America, also Jimmy's company, will make them. Globe Production's major motion picture company, will make regular full-length feature fare for the big screen. A smart boy, Jimmy, and Hollywood is waking up to this fact, and since the regular picture producers have seen soundies, they are taking him seriously—as a maker of first-rate entertainment. When Jimmy came to town, the old-time showmen smiled. He was a big shot in his own right, but in another field. Since then the industry has changed a few of its ideas about James Roosevelt. He's a factor to be considered—an important one—and he's the daddy of soundies.

CIO OFFICIAL ATTACKS DEFENSE ADMINISTRATION

AKRON, Oct. 21—Administration of the national defense program today was branded as "wholly inadequate" by Philip Murray, chairman of the CIO Steel Workers' Organizing committee.

Murray spoke at a rally of 2,000 that closed the third annual convention of the Ohio CIO council. John Owens of Columbus was re-elected president of the council and Ted F. Silvey was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

F. D. TO IGNORE FOE'S LATEST DEBATE DEMAND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—President Roosevelt will ignore Wendell Willkie's challenge to debate campaign issues from the same platform in Baltimore on the night of October 30, White House Secretary Stephen T. Early indicated today.

Instead, Mr. Roosevelt may make his speech that night from the Academy Hall of Music in Brooklyn.

The Republican candidate's offer to share the Baltimore armory with the President next week was called to Early's attention at his morning press conference.

"Willkie as I understand it issued a public challenge," Early said. "If I were going to invite you to my home I would send you an invitation and I don't think I would send it if I knew you weren't coming."

The President's secretary explained that Mr. Roosevelt originally had intended to speak on the night of October 30 from Washington, D. C.

"Then Chairman Flynn and his associates suggested that the President speak in Baltimore," Early continued. "They apparently did not know that the only sizable hall had been leased by the Republicans."

GERMANS TO TRY JEW WHO KILLED PARIS ATTACHE

LONDON, Oct. 21—In compliance with a German demand, Herschel Grynszpan, the young Polish Jew who shot and killed a German diplomat in Paris in 1938, has been sent from unoccupied France to Berlin for trial, a Reuters dispatch from Vichy said today.

Grynszpan's assassination of Ernst vom Rath, a secretary at the German embassy in Paris, led to widespread pogroms in Germany. Grynszpan, who was only 17 years old at the time, claimed he shot the German diplomat in retaliation for the persecution of the Jews in Germany.

The young Pole was in prison in Paris at the time the German armies were sweeping through France. Just before they reached Paris, Grynszpan was released. He voluntarily gave himself up at other French prisons between Paris and Bordeaux, but the local authorities released him each time the Germans neared. Several of these prison authorities were later arrested by the Germans for having done so.

LATE HUEY LONG AIDES LOSE CONVICTION FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—The supreme court today denied the petition of Seymour Weiss, one-time power in Louisiana under the Huey Long regime, J. Emory Adams and Louis C. Leage for review of their convictions on charges of using the mails to defraud Louisiana State University.

The three were indicted in the federal "clean up" of Louisiana along with James Monroe Smith, former president of the university, and Monte Hart, who committed suicide.

EX-WIFE MAKES CERTAIN EX-HUSBAND WILL SERVE

COLUMBUS, Oct. 21—An Atlanta, Ga., housewife took steps today to make certain her divorced husband, who lives in Cincinnati, doesn't claim her as a dependent to escape military training in the event he is conscripted.

A letter from the woman arrived at state conscription headquarters, informing officials that the man is not supporting her and their child.

A copy of the message was turned over to the local board for checking against the individual's registration information. The man's name was withheld.

The games of jacks, ball and jumping rope were all played by the children of the Romans.

FRIENDS MEET DURING SHOW AFTER 61 YEARS

Two Pickaway Countians who attended school together and had not met for 61 years became reacquainted during the Pumpkin Show.

They were Baxter Anderson and Ralph Harmont, residents of Circleville and Williamsport. One of the strange angles concerning their re-acquaintance is that both have been residents of the county all those years, but they had not seen each other. Mr. Anderson said in all that time.

OHIO BECOMES BATTLEGROUND FOR POLITICOS

President To Finish His Campaign With Talk In Cleveland

G. O. P. CHOICE VISITS

Senate, Congress Races To Be Heated; Davey And Bricker Active

COLUMBUS, Oct. 21 — A visit by President Roosevelt and two by his GOP opponent, Wendell L. Willkie, as well as numerous talks by state and national political figures remained in store for Ohioans today, two weeks before election.

The chief executive is to wind up his campaign with a speech in Cleveland November 2. Willkie will make his third campaign trip to the Buckeye state Thursday, when he visits Dayton, Akron and Warren. October 29, Willkie will address a five-county rally at Jackson.

To offset Willkie's visit this week, Democratic campaign leaders have arranged a speaking tour for U. S. Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo, of Mississippi. Meetings have been scheduled for Sidney Thursday, Delaware and Westerville Friday and Waverly and Lancaster Saturday.

Two more Monday night radio talks and whirlwind visits to scattered sections of the state will keep Governor Bricker and his Democratic opponent, former Gov. Martin L. Davey, busy this week and next.

Both Confident

Democratic and Republican state party leaders remained confident their candidates would sweep the politically-important Buckeye state.

But whether Ohio backs Roosevelt or Willkie, Bricker and his aides feel certain that voters will return them to office for a second term. Splitting of the national and state tickets, they contend, should prevent Davey from "riding into office again on the coat-tails of President Roosevelt."

While Bricker and his followers are basing their campaign for a second term on their record in office, Davey continues to attack the administration with charges of "chiseling" on old age pensioners, unemployed persons and relief clients.

Davey, continues to tell voters that his two terms were better than Bricker's one, and adds that if elected he will work for $40 monthly pensions for all eligible persons and for repeal of the sales tax.

In the other important contests, Mayor Harold H. Burton, Cleveland, Republican, is campaigning against John McSweeney, Wooster Democrat, for U. S. senator, and GOP Representatives George H. Bender and L. L. Marshall, of Cleveland, are opposing Francis Durbin, of Lima, and Stephen M. Young, of Cleveland, Democrats, for congressmen-at-large.

Three in Race

Interest in the judicial ballot is centered on the three-cornered race for January 2 state supreme court term. The candidates there are Gilbert Bettman, Cincinnati, former attorney general; Judge Arthur H. Day, whose supreme court term expires in January, and a youthful Columbus attorney with the unusual name of Judge MacBride.

MacBride, a 31-year-old attorney who has never held public office, caused a furore among lawyers when he won the Democratic nomination at the May 14 primaries. The candidate's full name was James Judge MacBride, but for years he has been going by the name of Judge MacBride.

His opponents during the primary campaign contended he was "playing" on his name to win the high court post. MacBride himself has done little campaigning, beyond appearances at Democratic rallies and meetings.

Even prominent attorneys have confused the youthful attorney with N. Craig McBride, widely known former jurist of Hillsboro.

In the contest for the supreme court term beginning January 1, the incumbent, Judge Charles B. Zimmerman is opposing Clinton D. Boyd, Middletown jurist.

For the unexpired term of the late George S. Myers, Cleveland, Dennis F. Dunlavy, a member of the state utilities commission, is running against Judge Edward C.

BEVIS INAUGURAL RITES GO ON AIR OVER OSU RADIO

COLUMBUS, Oct. 21—All Ohioans may "attend" the colorful inauguration of Dr. Howard L. Bevis as seventh president of Ohio State University, Thursday and Friday, since the exercises will be broadcast over WOSU.

Broadcast of the inaugural program will start at 9:30 a. m. Friday, with a description of the colorful procession in which 1000 men and women, in caps and gowns, will participate.

The speaking program starts at 10 a. m., principal addresses being those of President Clarence A. Dykstra, University of Wisconsin, on "The University's Responsibility in Training Citizens"; President James B. Conant, Harvard University, on "The University and a Free Society"; and President Bevis in his inaugural address. The actual induction will be conducted by Herbert S. Atkinson, Columbus, chairman of the board of trustees.

Dr. Dykstra's subject, chosen months ago, has taken on new meaning since his recent selection as national draft administrator. He is a former Ohio State faculty member.

WOSU also will be on the air Thursday at 1:30 p. m., with addresses on "The University and the Professions," by Dr. Morris Fishbein, American Medical Association, and Dr. Roscoe Pound, Harvard Law School. Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant, of the Ohio Supreme Court, will preside. Ohio State classes will be dismissed from noon Thursday to noon Friday, permitting students and faculty to participate.

ASHVILLE

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 79

From first hand observation and from reports of those working in the stand the Methodist Church of this village had a "good year" at the Pumpkin Show this season. Although nothing definite has been disclosed in regard the financial increase of the church by having the lunch stand, it may be assumed that a fair amount of money was cleared—that is, if the numbers of people who ate at the place is any indication, and surely it is. The hamburger and oyster fryers, the chili and soup makers, the sandwich and coffee dispensers were all busy most of the time and in many cases overworked. Several dozens of loyal workers assisted in the stand and although they were all there in the sole interest of the church and want no "flowers" for their toll, the entire church membership appreciates their help. Among those who assisted at various times were: Rev. and Mrs. Woodworth, Mrs. Harbough, Dr. and Mrs. Spindler, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Swayer, Mrs. Glick, Mary Helen Dennis, Mrs. N. E. Murphy, Mrs. Hosler, Miss Altha Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin, Mrs. Howard Hedges and daughters Roseanna and Marilyn, Mr. George Duvall, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Beckett, Miss Chrissie Duvall, Mrs. Hattie Rife, Mrs. Don Courtright, Mrs. Fred Hines, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fullen, Mrs. M. O. Eisman, Mrs. Noecker, Mrs. Chas. Trone and Mrs. Harry Topolosky.

Hedges Chapel had a live-wire bunch of hamburger-sellers and it seems to some that Martin Cromley was the "head man" of the outfit, at least in calling out the products. Mr. Kenneth Holtrey (in an apron) looked very "homey" as he dried cups, soup dishes, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and children and Mr. C. A. Murphy of Westerville, visited in Chillicothe and Waverly last week. Mr. C. A. Higley and family made a trip to his mother's home in New Vienna last Friday. Washington C. H., Wilmington and Dayton also were visited.

200 FRENCH DIE AS FLOOD HITS VICHY DISTRICT

VICHY, France, Oct. 21—More than 200 persons were killed or drowned and an estimated $20,000,000 damage resulted from torrential rains which today virtually isolated the province of Roussillon from the rest of France.

Perpignan, capital of the southern province, is now half under water, and the nearby Port Vendres is entirely cut off from land. Railroads, highways, and bridges have been washed out, and telegraph and telephone lines have been destroyed. Hundreds have been forced to flee their homes.

The food situation in the stricken area is critical and today the French Red Cross took measures to send supplies by plane.

The military camp at Argeles, near Perpignan, where Spanish troop refugees are held, has been transferred to higher ground.

The complete death toll is not known as many of the coastal villages along the Mediterranean are completely isolated.

First reports of the catastrophe arrived from Perpignan where some telephone lines have been re-established.

Perpignan is a city of 72,207 population and the isolated Port Vendres numbers 2,724 residents.

PROMINENT MAN DURING HARDING REGIME DIES

HILLSBORO, Oct. 21—Major Roy Asa Haynes, 58, of Hillsboro, a leader in state and national circles during the administration of Warren G. Harding, died at his home here Sunday night.

Major Haynes was a friend of President Harding's and served during his administration as national prohibition commissioner. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Katherine Mason Haynes, and his mother, Mrs. Charles E. Haynes.

JOSEPH SHONKWILER DIES

Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Tuesday in the Owl Creek Church, Pike County, for Joseph Shonkwiler, 66, brother of Mrs. George Rockwell of New Holland, who died Saturday in University Hospital Columbus. His widow, three sons and three other sisters also survive.

Bride's Father Reads Nuptial Ceremony

Social Calendar

The home of Elder and Mrs. G. F. Hanover, Walnut Township, was the scene of the marriage of their daughter, Mary Virginia, to Mr. Samuel W. Baugh, son of Mrs. Lucy Baugh of Columbus, the ceremony being performed at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, October 20.

Shortly before the service, a program of nuptial music was offered by Mrs. Clyde Bandy which included "Oh, Promise Me", "I Love You Truly" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." Miss Wilda Hanover, sister of the bride, sang the second number.

Preceding the bride down the open staircase was her sister and matron of honor, Mrs. John M. Hite, who was attired in an ankle length frock of medium blue crepe. She carried a colonial bouquet of chrysanthemums and carnations.

The bride's father performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of thirty relatives. The living room mantle, banked with ferns and yellow dahlias, served as a background for the impressive occasion, while candles in three-branch candelabra shed a soft glow over the wedding party.

The bride's gown was of white slipper satin, styled with a fitted midriff and full skirt which fell in a modified train. About the neckline of the gown was a large insert of lace, embroidered with seed pearls. A garland of white roses was caught to her hair. Her bouquet, also of white roses, was centered with an orchid corsage, which she later wore with her traveling costume.

Mr. Elmer Baugh served his brother as best man.

Mrs. Hanover, mother of the bride, wore a dress of solid blue crepe, and the bridegroom's mother was attired in green crepe. Each wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Assisting at the reception which immediately followed the ceremony, were Mrs. Floyd Mason, the Misses Vera, Marjorie and Wilda Hanover.

Seated at the bride's table, in addition to the bridal party, were Elder and Mrs. Hanover, Mrs. Lucy Baugh, Mr. John Hite, Mrs. Elmer Baugh and Mrs. Cynthia Struble, grandmother of the bride.

The new Mrs. Baugh is a graduate of Dickinson Secretarial College of Columbus. Mr. Baugh is a salesman for the Moores and Ross Company of that city.

For traveling, the Mrs. Baugh chose a navy blue suit with wine accessories. After a brief trip through the East, the couple will reside at 1346 East Kossuth Street Columbus.

Mr. Mrs. Seall Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. John Seall of East Franklin Street were hosts to several relatives and friends during the Pumpkin Show. Those visiting at various times at the Seall home were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Nave of Westerville; Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Wilson and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, Miss Neoma and Miss Ruth Smith of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and Fred Smith of Urbana; Mrs. Ransel McDaniels, Baltimore; Ora McDaniels, Newark; Mr. and Mrs. Lou Hutchinson of Ashville; Miss Lucy Seall, Dayton, and Miss Mary Seall of St. Paris.

STARS SAY—

For Monday, October 21

MONDAY's astrological forecast is for excellent prospect for promotion, favors, preferment and rewards for fidelity and meritorious performance from employers, superiors and those in authority. These may be secured despite treachery, duplicity and sinister underminings from those envious and malicious. There may be surprising benefits and change of an unforeseen nature.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the threshold of a year of some surprises and changes, with every prospect of advancement, favors, honors and tokens of confidence and esteem from those in influential positions. These may incite the enmity and jealousy of sinister persons but may not be nullified or delayed.

A child born on this day should be unusually talented, have much ingenuity and originality. It may be adventurous and ambitious in spite of possible nervous, high-tensioned, even erratic, emotions and feelings. It should be favored greatly by its superiors and should rise to good position.

REVIVE FLIM-FLAM GAME

ANSONIA, Conn.—A new version of the flim-flam game appeared in Ansonia recently. Mrs. M. J. Williams told police a well dressed youth came to the door to rent a vacant garage and offered to pay her in advance. The woman gave him $18 in change for a crumpled $20 bill. When the youth departed, the woman unfolded the bill and found it was a dollar bill.

Today's Menu

SPARERIBS—AND THEY'RE STUFFED!

ONE OF THE joys of colder weather is that we can eat pork—a pleasure we usually omit in the warm weather, as our mothers taught us. Let's have stuffed spare ribs for dinner some crisp evening.

Today's Menu
Roast Stuffed Spareribs
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Applesauce or Waldorf Salad
Broccoli
Lemon Pudding
Coffee

Roast Stuffed Spareribs
¼ cup chopped - 2 sections olives
¼ tsp. pepper - 1 cup bread-
¼ tsp. paprika - crumbs
1 chopped onion ½ cup chopped
2 tsp. bacon fat - celery
½ cup water - 1 tsp. salt
Select a whole sparerib piece or part of 2, so that one piece can be laid over the other. Rub with salt and pepper, and spread one piece with bread stuffing, made as follows:

Brown onion lightly in fat, add to breadcrumbs, celery, olives, salt, pepper and paprika. Moisten with meat stock or water and mix thoroughly. Cover with remaining section of spareribs and sew two together, dredging outside with flour and placing stuffed ribs on rack in open roasting pan. Sear in hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 20 minutes or until meat is lightly browned, then reduce temperature to 300 degrees and continue to cook for 1 hour longer, or until meat is tender.

Lemon Pudding
starch 2 cups water
Juice 1½ lemons 1 cup sugar
3 egg whites 2 tbsp. corn-
¼ tsp. lemon
Dissolve cornstarch in some of the water, add to sugar, lemon juice and grated rind, then gradually pour on rest of water, stirring to keep smooth, and put in double boiler. Cook until clear and smooth (for about 15 minutes), then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and pour into mold to cool. May be served with dash of whipped cream on top or plain.

BUSINESS GIRL DINES AT HOME

IF YOU are a business girl and must prepare your meals in a hurry, I think you'll find baked sausage and apple rings a delicious, quickly prepared dish for an occasional dinner or supper. Light the oven first thing, then prepare sausages and apples and let them bake while you prepare rest of meal. The potatoes may be boiled the evening before in their skins so that they only have to be peeled and creamed for dinner.

Today's Menu
Baked Sausage and Apple Rings
Creamed Potatoes
Celery Olives or Pickles
Stewed Fruit One-Egg Cake
Coffee

Baked Sausage and Apple Rings
2 tbsps. brown 6 link sausages
sugar 4 firm tart
3 tbsps. water apples
1 tsp. bacon fat 1 tsp.
Few grains salt molasses
Grease large flat baking dish with bacon fat (deep glass pie plate would be good). Wash and core apples but do not pare, cut in crosswise slices and arrange rings on greased baking plate. Sprinkle with sugar, salt, molasses and water, being careful to wet the sugar, so it will melt. Bake in 400 degree oven until apples begin to soften. Prick sausages, scald but do not boil for two or three

DRINK
Coca-Cola
The pause that refreshes minutes in hot water. Place over apples and return to oven. Bake until sausages are brown (turning them once) and the apples are done. This serves 2.

One-Egg Cake
1 cup sugar 2 cups sifted
¼ cup butter flour
1 well beaten 2 tps, baking egg powder
1 cup milk
Cream butter, add sugar a little at a time, creaming well together. Add well beaten egg, then part of milk, then part of flour sifted with baking powder, alternating until all are used. Last add flavoring, which may be 1 teaspoon vanilla or lemon or ½ teaspoon almond extract.

"Hunt the Slipper"

Angela Adams had to have a pair of silver slippers for a party. She wanted low heels, loads of style, size 7 AAA ... and she didn't want to pay more than ten dollars.

Angela Adams went down to "look." She dashed here and she dashed there. She stuffed her protesting feet into seventeen pairs of silver slippers. Some were too high at the heel, some were too expensive ... few of them fit. Finally, in desperation, she took a pair of gold ones, with high heels, size 7 AA.

Angela Adams had a horrid time at the party. She was too tired to be gay. She couldn't dance because her feet were killing her. She retired to the dressing-room, and took off the offending shoes. A sympathetic maid gave her a paper to read.

Angela Adams dropped to the floor with a low moan ... the paper spread open to an advertisement which read:

SILVER SANDALS for a PARTY GIRL

Flat-heeled, new as new, in a whole range of normal, and out-sizes. And only ... $9.75!

Moral: Do your slipper-hunting in these columns. Excellent, too, for ice-boxes ... hats ... stockings ... dust-pans ... and all the best values in everything!

Buckeyes At Work For Contest With Cornell

By Larry Newman

COLUMBUS, Oct. 21—From the wreckage of what was to have been their greatest season, Ohio State University's Buckeyes today went back to a job that appears even more difficult than the first half of their schedule which closed with a 13 to 7 defeat at the hands of Minnesota's Golden Gophers Saturday afternoon.

Faced with the cheerless prospect of meeting top-ranking Cornell, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan within a month, the Scarlet Scourge will do well to break even in that quartet.

The Bucks' immediate attention was centered on the battle with Cornell on the banks of the Cayuga Saturday afternoon. This game was to have had an important bearing on the national championship, but it now merely becomes a meter for measuring the strength of the Big Red, undefeated over a two year stretch.

MAJOR LEAGUES NEED NEW MEN

Almost All Teams Must Have Replacements To Be Contenders

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—Before tucking the ball clubs away among the camphor balls, let's see what each of the major league outfits will need when they start house cleaning next spring.

Let's start with the Giants. Bill Terry left the club die before his eyes and now must acquire almost an entire new outfit.

His minimum requirements are three pitchers, three infielders and two outfielders. That's a large order and one which he is not likely to fill in a hurry because he has nothing to offer in trade. Worse still, he has nothing worth while coming up from the farm clubs.

The Phils have two good pitchers but they need virtually everything else to get anywhere. Therefore, you may expect to see cash and prayers going to the Phils for either Hugh Mulcahy or Walter Higbe. The Cubs, Giants and Dodgers are in the market for Higbe and the Dodgers probably have more to offer than the others.

The Dodgers themselves need two pitchers, a first string catcher and an outfielder, preferably a left-hand pull hitter. If they can land the catcher and Higbe, they will come close to winning the pennant next year.

Strangely enough, the seventh place Bees need very little to make them a first division club. Another power hitter in the outfield and a smooth hard-hitting catcher might turn the trick. It's a young and improving club all along the line.

The Cubs need a first baseman, a shortstop, two pitchers and an outfielder. They will get the outfielder from the coast.

The Reds need an outfielder, an infielder and a catcher. It is imperative that they land a catcher to replace the unfortunate Hershberger.

The Cardinals could use two good pitchers, an outfielder and a catcher and the Pirates would be sitting pretty if they could land about three first class pitchers.

Where are these clubs going to find all these replacements? Well, to be brutally frank about it, they are not going to find them. But you may be sure that the club that does best in finding what it needs will make the greatest stride forward next year.

The American league needs just about as much as the National. The Red Sox, for instance, need a whole new pitching staff and a catcher. If they had had even two top-flight pitchers last season they would have walked into the world series. They could use an extra infielder.

The Athletics need three pitchers, three infielders and an outfielder. And when we say a club needs a pitcher, we don't mean any pitcher. We mean one who can win at least a majority of the games he starts.

The Senators need two pitchers, a shortstop and an outfielder. The White Sox could use an infielder, an outfielder and another pitcher. The Yanks need two pitchers and an infielder. And they have them. In fact, they have more than they need coming up and Joe McCarthy is therefore in a pleasant trading position.

If the Browns had two more pitchers they would be hard to take. The Indians could use another pitcher, an infielder and an outfielder. They are many who believe the Indians need a manager more than anything else. Well, good managers are not hard to find, and they'll have one.

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT
Estate of Abraham Barnhart, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that Clarence R. Barnhart of Circleville, Ohio has been duly appointed Executor of the Estate of Abraham Barnhart, deceased, late of Pickaway County, Ohio.

Dated this 11th day of October, 1940.
LEWEL WELDON
Probate Judge of said County.
(Oct. 14, 21, 28)

The Buckeye defeat at the hands of the Golden Gophers on Saturday made it certain that a new Big Ten champion will be crowned shortly after Thanksgiving Day. The game was the defending champions' second conference defeat and eliminated them from the picture while the Gopher's victory placed them in a role as co-favorite with Michigan's Wolverines.

Mr. Breaks Appears
But the Golden Gophers with all their weight and tandom of slippery backfield stars were fortunate to whip the puncheon Bucks. Clinging desperately to the 13-7 lead built up in a first half display of power and deception, the Gophers saw defeat loom in the final two minutes of play as the Buckeyes drove to the one-yard line. But here that ever present twelfth player on the field — Mr. Breaks—stepped in.

But a low pass from center, which nicked one of the Scarlet guards' legs, went skidding along the wet turf to the 14-yard line. That happened on the second down with but one minute and fifty seconds to play. Two desperation passes closed the issue for the Staters and Minnesota took the ball to kick the remaining seconds.

The stalwart Minnesota line on three other occasions in the bitterly-fought second half staved off Buckeye scoring thrusts—once on the one, another time on the 16 and still a third time on the 19.

Bruce Smith, scintillating Gopher halfback, scored both Minnesota touchdowns from the two-yard line after extended drives down the field. The first came within four minutes of the opening kickoff and the second early in the second quarter on a 68-yard march.

Ohio State held a short-lived lead in the second period when Charlie Anderson, Negro end, gathered in one of Don Scott's passes for a touchdown to climax a 31-yard goalward march. Just seconds before the Scarlet had been held for downs on the one-yard marker.

ACE OF WILDCAT OUTFIT INJURED IN LEAGUE TILT

CHICAGO, Oct. 21—Bill De Correvont, blond bomber of the Northwestern backfield, will not play against Indiana at Dyche Stadium in Evanston Saturday.

De Correvont, who has been the sparkplug behind Northwestern's three straight victories this season, twisted an ankle in the third quarter of the Wildcats' 27 to 7 victory over Wisconsin last week, and though he was willing to play the last quarter, more complete examination showed the young halfback sustained a sprain which will keep him idle against the Hoosiers.

Some of the sting of De Correvont's loss is removed however, when contemplated in the light of the brilliant performance of Red Hahnstein, who filled in when Billy the kid was hurt. Hahnstein, senior halfback, played despite an injured ankle and averaged ten yards on four ball-carrying attempts. The redhead is one of the best, and if he has one of his good days against Indiana it may be De Correvont will not be missed.

SLEPT IN WRONG PLACE
MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Oliver Graham went to sleep with a railroad track as his pillow. A freight train struck him and the engine and three cars swished by. On excited crew rushed back to the spot, to find Graham sitting up, stupefied. Too low for the cow-catcher, his head had been pushed aside by the wheels. He had a headache, however.

WELCOMES JAIL SENTENCE

ALBEMARLE, N. C. — Sentenced to six months of work on the public roads for wife-beating, a grateful culprit in Judge O. J. Sikes' court quipped: "Thanks, your honor. It's worth it to get away from that woman."

Trio of Bishops

MUNROE-OHIO WESLEYAN BACK

NICHOLS-Q *DIECKMANN-C

DELAWARE, Oct. 21—These three Battling Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan are expected to give Ohio University a busy afternoon when the two teams clash in Selby stadium Saturday, October 26, in a Homecoming game.

Ralph Monroe, a fast-stepping back from Sidney, Ohio, is slated to start at right half. He is a senior, a letterman, and plunged for one of the touchdowns against Miami.

Stan Nichols, a junior from Shelton, Conn., is a mainstay in the line. His regular post is left guard.

Ed Dieckmann, a husky 205-pound junior from Cincinnati, is expected to start his first game this year at center. Bruised in a pre-season practice tilt, Ed has not yet got into the lineup.

STANFORD RATES AS CONTENDER IN WESTERN JOUST

SAÑ FRANCISCO, Oct. 21 — Surprising Stanford, the team that failed to win a conference game last season—

Potential Southern California, winner of the last two Rose Bowl games—

Dangerous Washington, the pre-season favorite to cop the 1940 coast championship—

That's how they stand today, in mid-season, in the exacting Pacific Coast football conference race. It is still anybody's title, but two games this Saturday may cause drastic revisions in the ranking of the region's top teams.

The coast's "big four" swing in to action Saturday, presenting: 1—Undeclared and untied Stanford against undefeated but twice tied Southern California.

2—The Washington Huskies, unbeaten and untied in conference play, against the improved California Golden Bears.

Clark Shaughnessy's Stanford Indians and Jimmy Phelan's Huskies will enter these games as favorites. And this offers one distinct surprise — Clark Shaughnessy, who seldom saw a victory at the University of Chicago, favored to whip Howard Jones, the old-time master of coast football.

NATION'S EYES WATCH PENN AND MICHIGAN MEET

Contest Between Harmon And Reagan To Receive Much Attention

By Lawton Carver
NEW YORK, Oct. 21—The football map remained virtually unchanged today after warfare over the weekend, but leadership in some sections will be endangered next Saturday, with the Pennsylvania-Michigan game at Ann Arbor topping the entire schedule in national interest. One of the mighty must fall, barring a dead-lock, in which case both would lose much prestige.

While those two are battling it out to preserve unsullied records, elsewhere about the country other eleven will be belting away in top flight engagements that will change conference standings and the whole trend of sectional races. There are forebodings of upsets to come.

Highlight of the Penn-Michigan game will be the ball-running duel between Penn's Reagan and Michigan's Harmon, who maintained their scoring pace last Saturday. The former made 31 points as Princeton was crushed 46 to 28 and Harmon picked up 10 more points in leading Michigan to a 28 to 0 win over Illinois.

Thus did Penn and the Michigans remain close to the head of the unbeaten, untied parade that includes Notre Dame, Cornell, Fordham, Tennessee, Texas A. and M., Stanford, Columbia, Minnesota, Northwestern, Boston College, Georgetown, Mississippi, Clemson, Navy, Texas, and a few lesser lights.

Irish Run Up 61

Notre Dame stayed up by running up a 61 to 0 score on Carnegie Tech while Cornell trounced Syracuse, 33 to 6. Fordham defeated Pittsburgh, 24 to 12, Tennessee out-lasted Alabama, 27 to 12; the Texas Aggies downed Texas Christian, 21 to 7. Stanford took Washington State, 26 to 14, Columbia surprised Georgia, 19 to 13, Minnesota defeated Ohio State, 13 to 7, Northwestern ran up a 27 to 7 margin on Wisconsin, Boston College ran wild against Idaho, 60 to 0, Georgetown made 46 to 4 against V. P. I., Mississippi stopped Duquesne, 14 to 6, Clemson idled, Navy took Drake, 19 to 0, and Texas belted Arkansas 21 to 0.

Out of all this comes the leaders in various conferences as follows, with each of them unbeaten and untied in its own circuit:

BIG TEN—Northwestern, with two wins, which next meets Indiana, the latter being tied with Michigan, and Minnesota for runner-up honors. With Michigan meeting Penn, Minnesota tackles Iowa.

SOUTHEASTERN—Mississippi with two wins, which goes outside the circuit to meet Arkansas while Tennessee and Georgia Tech currently in a runner-up deadlock, meet Florida and Auburn,

FIVE OTHERS INJURED

Mrs. Alta Loschiavo Dies; Ohio's Week End Death Toll To Be High

A visitor to Circleville's Pumpkin Show and a passenger in another car were killed Saturday night in a collision on State Route 33 between Canal Winchester and Carroll in Fairfield County.

They were: Mrs. Alta Loschiavo, 40, of 166 Carpenter Street, Columbus, who was returning home after attending the fall festival.

Others injured in the head-on collision were: Lloyd Snyder, 20, of Wooster, O. Fred Hofmeister, 253 Collingwood Avenue, Columbus, driver of the car in which Mrs. Loschiavo was riding. He is suffering from a possible skull fracture and broken jaw.

Mrs. Hofmeister, who has a broken left leg and back injuries. Mr. Loschiavo, suffering from a broken right arm and a possible broken back.

Wavelene West, 18, and Virginia Shriner, 16, both of Logan, the former suffering fractured skull and the latter numerous bruises. They were riding with Snyder.

All the injured are in Lancaster Municipal Hospital, several of them in serious condition.

The Columbus woman is survived by her husband, a son, two daughters, two grandchildren and three brothers.

Other Ohio fatalities were: Arthur D. Harden, 25, of Columbus, was killed when he lost control of his auto, which sheared off two utility poles and then overturned.

Floyd Ware, 55, was killed at Piquette when he was struck by an auto as he aided volunteer firemen in fighting a blaze.

Mrs. Helen Krebs, 38, of Columbus, died of injuries received in a crash near Hilliards three weeks ago.

Edward Meers, 65, died in a Columbus hospital of injuries received a week ago when struck by an auto while walking in the street.

The second victim of a head-on auto crash near London in which Mrs. Helen Riley, 18, of Springfield, was killed instantly, died in a Springfield hospital. He was Austin Cox, 40, of South Vienna. Six CCC boys and another young woman were injured in the crash.

An auto accident near Dayton claimed the life of William Havenman, 23, of Cincinnati.

Louise McCullough and Mary Benedict of Springfield, were killed instantly in an auto crash on U. S. Route 40 one mile east of Harmony, in Clark County.

Betty Levitz, 18, was fatally injured when the car in which she was riding went out of control and overturned at the Cincinnati city limits. Her escort was critically injured.

Mrs. Margaret Murphy, 65, of Price Hill, Cincinnati suburb, died of injuries received when she was struck by a car as she attempted to cross a street.

MRS. EMMA JANE TURNER DIES AT AGE OF 82

Mrs. Emma Jane Turner, 82, wife of George Turner, died Sunday at 10:30 p. m. at her home, 124 East Water Street. She was a native of Tarilton, born November 12, 1857, a daughter of William and Martha Odaffer.

A sister, Mrs. Nelson Stout of Stoutsville, survives in addition to the husband.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the M. S. Rinehart Funeral Home, the Rev. Neil Peterson officiating, with burial in Forest Cemetery.

BAHA'I GROUP MEETS

The Circleville Bahai' Group held a cooperative supper Sunday at the home of Mrs. W. W. Robinson, South Pickaway Street. Snapdragons, calendula and candles were used as decorations for the table. The program for the evening was in charge of the chairman, Mrs. J. O. Eagleson. Readings were given from "The Dawn Breakers", a record of the early days of the Faith, written by the Persian historian, Nabil. The meeting honored the anniversary of the birth of the forerunner of the Faith, Mirza Ali Muhammad.

REP. DIES LISTS PROGRAM TO HIT 'FIFTH COLUMN'

CHICAGO, Oct. 21—A three-point program to protect America from the "fifth column" activity that aided Hitler's legions in Europe was urged today by Martin Dies, chairman of the congressional committee investigating un-American activity.

Dies, in an interview, said America must:

1. Strengthen the Bill of Rights with a new interpretation which will bar the agents and organizations of foreign powers from the protection of its provisions.

2. Establish strict limits on the rights of consular staff members in the United States, and take steps to make certain that any consular official who goes beyond those limits is removed.

3. Institute a vigorous policy of deportation for aliens engaged in subversive activity, and revoke the citizenship papers of naturalized citizens who are found guilty of such work.

Of the bill of rights, Dies said: "Tolerance ceases to be a virtue when it is carried to the point where everything is tolerated. We must pass a law to take the protection of the bill of rights away from those people who use that protection for the purpose of destroying the bill of rights."

"We must find a middle ground between the complete tolerance which permits subversive activity, and the complete lack of tolerance of the totalitarian powers. If we continue to use complete tolerance, we are in danger of being forced to accept the totalitarian way."

JAMES FOWLER, FORMER STATE OFFICIAL, DEAD

COLUMBUS, Oct. 21—Funeral services were to be held today for James C. Fowler, 90, former deputy state supervisor of school and ministerial lands and one-time superintendent of New Lexington schools, who died after a ten-month illness at his Columbus home. Burial will be at New Lexington.

He taught school at New Lexington for several years following his graduation from Ohio University, then became superintendent, a post he held for 25 years. Subsequently he became Perry County school examiner, and later accepted his state position.

ROMANIANS NIP BECK'S ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE LAND

BUDAPEST, Oct. 21 — Former Polish Foreign Minister Josef Beck, interned in Romania since Poland was over-run by the Nazis, made a unsuccessful attempt to leave that country with a false British passport, according to reports received in Budapest today.

These advices said Beck escaped from his place of internment at Snagov, Romania and went to Constantza, where he attempted to sail to Turkey.

He was arrested on the gangway of a ship by Romanian police, it was reported.

DRAFT LOTTERY NEAR; OFFICIALS OF STATE BUSY

COLUMBUS, Oct. 21 — With plans for the national draft lottery scheduled to be announced from Washington, local boards in Ohio today labored to complete their task of assigning serial numbers to the 840,707 registrants who signed up last Wednesday for a possible year's military service in the conscript army.

The history-making peace-time conscription will demand the services of more than 52,000 Ohioans, it was estimated.

Meanwhile, additional infantry and artillery units of the Ohio National Guard departed on the first leg of their 800-odd mile journey to Camp Shelby, Miss., where they will undergo a year's intensive training as part of the national defense program. By Thursday all units of the 37th Division, comprising most of the guard, will have left Ohio.

Cavalry had medical units not included in the 37th division were called for mobilization between January 3 and 19.

The vanguard of Ohio troops has already arrived at Camp Shelby. It included the division staff, headed by Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler; a headquarters company, a military police detachment, the 112th medical regiment headquarters troops, and other detachments totaling about 400 men.

MUSIC TEACHERS MEET TO DISCUSS FESTIVAL

County music teachers will meet Wednesday at 4:15 p. m. in the office of County School Superintendent George McDowell to make further plans for the county's Music Festival. During the meeting the report of the steering committee, consisting of Peral Marshall, Jackson Township; Gretchen Plum, Ashville and Fred Brobst, Ashville, will be discussed. No date for the festival has been set.

ABSENTEES MAY VOTE; 50 BALLOTS ON FILE

Prince Edward is Now Age Five

PRINCE Edward, nephew of King George and fourth in line for the British throne, plays with the toys given him on his fifth birthday. His father, the Duke of Kent, momentarily forgets the great tragedy of war which clouds his land, as he shows Edward and Edward's sister, Princess Alexandra, how one of the toys operates.

his father, whose will was probated in 1893. New York City records show no change in ownership since that time. Fish is reported to have begun renting the house to Germans about 1931, shortly before Hitler. The lease expired two years later, about the time Hitler came into power, and he renewed, reportedly with an increased rent. Two years ago, 1938, he is reported to have renewed the lease once again, this time with a substantial increase from the Nazis.

NOTE—Ham Fish is one of the most violent isolationists, British baiters, and opponents of the draft on the floor of Congress. He is the Republican Congressman from President Roosevelt's own district, but is opposed by many leading Republicans.

WALLACE'S AUTOGRAPH

A stamp collector with an admiration for Henry Wallace conceived a novel way of getting Wallace's autograph. He found that there were post offices in the United States for each of Wallace's three names—except for one missing letter. So he wrote to the postmasters of Henry, Virginia; Agar, South Dakota; and Wallace, California, asking them to cancel an enclosed cover.

Actually Wallace's middle name is Agar, not Agar, but there is no post office named Agar.

Then he sent the covers to Wallace, asking for his autograph. He got it.

WHY DYKSTRA

Inside reason for the long delay in the appointment of the Selecting Service Administrator was that the President insisted on a civilian for this post.

The Army wanted one of its own men, and brought heavy pressure to bear, contending that the draft job was primarily a military one. Some Army officers, apparently, had not yet become reconciled to the fact that the CCC is bossed by a civilian. But Roosevelt, giving heed to Defense Commissioner Sidney Hillman and other labor advisers, stood by his guns.

Aiding the laborites was the attitude of Army men toward labor in the preparations for the draft. For Colonel Lewis Hershey, Acting Administrator until the appointment of Clarence Dykstra, had failed to provide any labor representation on the appeal boards, even though the largest percentage of draftees comes from worker ranks.

This caused Hillman to hit the ceiling. When he went to bat with Hershey, the latter readily conceded the justice of the demand and changed the regulations. But the fact that Hershey hadn't thought of it in the first place was a weighty argument in favor of a civilian draft chief.

FARMER McNARY

Republican vice presidential nominee Charlie McNary was born on a farm in Oregon and still is a country boy at heart. So getting him to make a speech in a big city is like yanking molars. In fact, it took the combined cajolings of Wendell Willkie and Republican National Chairman Joseph Martin to induce McNary to appear at the GOP labor rally in Pittsburgh.

McNary made a big hit. But since then it has been touch-and-go every time Martin has approached him about talking to another metropolitan audience. The boyish-faced, 65-year-old Oregon Senator finally brought the situation to a showdown the other day.

"Listen, Joe," he said flatly, "suppose you just let me talk to farmers. Every time I show up for a speech in a big town the Chamber of Commerce and business men take over the meeting. They want to be helpful, I know, but I feel like a stuffed shirt talking about the farm question in a setting like that."

"I'll make more votes for the ticket if I confine my campaigning to small communities and agricultural centers, where I can do some down-to-earth talking with farmers. I guess I'm just a hayseed, but that's the way nature stacked me up and there's not much we can do about it."

And the Senator is still standing pat.

POLITICAL CHAFF

The President is under strong pressure from Illinois Democratic chiefs to make a defense inspection trip through that state, with appearances in Chicago and other populous centers. That unusual resolution adopted by House Republicans pledging "steadfast allegiance and continuing loyalty" to Wendell Willkie was the smart work of smart party leader Joe Martin. He put it through to nail reports that some GOP congressmen weren't mentioning the name.

SIX KILLED IN STRANGE MISHAP

Airplane Hits 'Chuter At Show; Craft Then Falls To Ground

MARIANNA, Ark., Oct. 21 —

One of the strangest air accidents on record today confronted investigators seeking an explanation for a mid-air collision between a parachutist and an airplane yesterday, which resulted in the death of six persons.

The 'chutist, Paul Nalewja, 31, of Bowerville, Minn., was hit by the plane as he was about 200 feet from the ground. He dropped to his death as the plane, piloted by George Zarn, 27, of Greenville, Miss., and carrying four passengers, zoomed on for a short distance and crashed. All its occupants were killed.

Nalewja had jumped from a second plane in connection with an air show, and among the possibilities considered was one that Zarn may have believed Nalewja was in trouble and had tried in some way to help him. Most likely explanation, however, authorities said, was that Zarn's ship was out of control when it struck Nalewja.

In addition to Zarn, those killed in the plane crash, which occurred seven miles north of Marianna, were J. M. Cook, about 65, of Marianna; Lawrence Demarke, 30, of Marianna; Paul Bowie, 29, of Blickey, Ark., and Joe Campbell, 38, of Forest City, Ark.

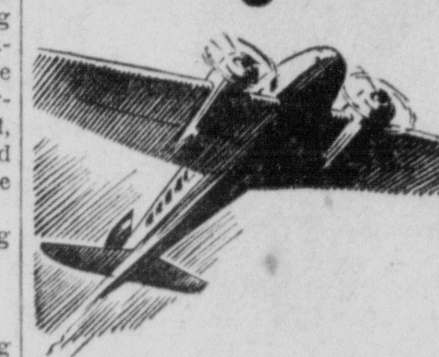

TAFT TOURS OHIO FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINEES

COLUMBUS, Oct. 21—U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft, who has been campaigning for Wendell L. Willkie, Republican candidate for president, and for Charles L. McNary, the vice-presidential nominee, will swing back into Ohio for eight speeches before the November 5 election.

Senator Taft's first speech will be at Marysville on Thursday, October 24, while the second is scheduled for Wooster on October 25. His other speaking engagements include: October 28 at Troy; October 29 at Youngstown; October 30 at East Liverpool; October 31 at Cleveland; November 1 at Ashland, and November 2 at Canton.
